

Weisbrod Matteis & Copley Elects Three New Partners

(WASHINGTON, DC) – Weisbrod Matteis & Copley PLLC (WMC) is pleased to announce the promotion of three lawyers to the firm’s partnership.

“Our firm has grown dramatically as a result of remarkable teamwork, diligence and client service by our attorneys and staff,” WMC Chairman Augie Matteis said. “On behalf of the partnership, I congratulate and welcome three exceptional lawyers. All three have helped lead the way to our many victories and successes over the past few years.”

The new partners, who are based in Washington and Philadelphia, are:

Pamira Shah Matteis (Washington): Ms. Matteis represents plaintiffs in insurance coverage, fraud, and related complex civil disputes. She recently has helped lead the firm’s efforts in representing homeowners and business owners whose properties were damaged by hurricanes and other disasters. She earned her law degree from The George Washington University School of Law and her undergraduate degree from Yale University.

John Koch (Philadelphia): Mr. Koch represents policyholders and corporate clients in environmental and insurance coverage matters. He focuses his practice on helping clients recover insurance proceeds in connection with varying types of underlying liability, including liability for environmental contamination and latent injuries. He also helps policyholders recover first party insurance benefits, particularly those whose properties were damaged from floods, hurricanes and other natural disasters. He earned his law degree from Villanova University School of Law and his undergraduate degree from James Madison University.

Matthew Krauss (Washington): Mr. Krauss represents plaintiffs in complex civil and commercial disputes. His practice frequently involves insurance coverage matters, including traditional coverage disputes and cases stemming from insurers’ failure to pay claims properly. He also represents plaintiffs in a range of civil disputes involving breach of contract, fraud, and bad faith. He earned his law degree from Harvard Law School and his undergraduate degree from Swarthmore College.

ABOUT WMC

WMC is one of the nation's premier policyholder-side insurance recovery firms and was named by National Law Journal as one of the ten hottest litigation boutiques in the country. For more information, visit www.wmclaw.com.